DEMOCRATIC SENATOR IS DEAD

Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic majority leader in the United States, was found dead in his apartment in the Senate Office building near the Capitol early Wednesday morning, according to radio broadcast from the capital.

The Senator was alone when he died.

Mr. Robinson was active on the floor of the Senate on Tuesday. The Supreme Court bill is now under debate.

Was 1928 Nominee

The death of the Arkansas City removes from public life one of America's most influential leaders. He was the nominee of the Houston convention in 1928 for Vice President and took the battle to the people along with Governor Al. Smith of New York.

Current rumors said that Robinson had broken with Roosevelt over the court issue. Vice President Garner has also broken with the President. The late Huey P. Long and Senator Robinson were Senate enemies and staged many spectacular battles. Robinson has been an outstanding supporter of the New Deal.

Sir Harry Lauder on World Trip

Famed Scotch singer, Sir Harry Lauder is pictured as he arrived in Los Angeles from Australia aboard the liner Monterey, accompanied by his niece, Miss Greta Lauder. Sir Harry, who has retired from concert work, plans no stage appearances on this round-the-world trip—instead, he says, he is enjoying life as he spends dimes he saved during his 17 tours of the United States.

Now that summer is here, with its increased tourist and other automobile traffic, death prepares to reap its richest harvest. From the homes of the United States must come about 37,000 to die and a million others to be injured, some crippled for life, during the year, if former records are to be equaled.

This senseless slaughter goes on in spite of all the warnings given and in the face of the object lessons held daily before our eyes.

The pitiful part of this continuous tragedy is that most of these casualties are entirely unnecessary and might be prevented by the exercise of ordinary common sense. They are due either to an insane desire for speed or an utter disregard for the most elementary rules of safety.

Many of the victims are helpless passengers, whose lives are at the mercy of the criminally reckless or incompetent driver. Some accidents are apparently unavoidable, of course, but in the vast majority of cases they are the result of pure carelessness on the part of motorists or pedestrians.

And even the most careful driver is often helpless when he encounters a fool on street or highway.

We will all be living in the proverbial "glass house," if the scientists keep on discovering new means of checking us up. With dictographs and truth serums and a new device said to be capable of making moving pictures of what goes on in a room, without the knowledge of its occupants, they are getting things down pretty fine.

Besides these schemes for the invasion of privacy, of which evildoers might be warned, Fred M. Taylor of Kansas City would probably caution them to keep off the air—for the radio proved to be his undoing.

Some months after deserting a wife in Illinois, Fred married a young society woman in the Missouri city, the wedding being a swell affair, with the ceremony performed by a bishop. To make the occasion strictly up to date, the proceedings were broadcast over the church radio.

Wife No. 1 happened to be listening in at her Illinois home, and as Fred had neglected the minor detail of getting a divorce or changing his name, his duplicity was exposed. The deserted wife journeyed westward.

When the judge asked the two Mrs. Taylors to suggest a suitable punishment for their joint spouse, they agreed that five years would be about right, but his honor thought that two years in Jefferson City would satisfy the demands of the blind goddess, and so decreed.

There Fred will have ample opportunity to reflect on the wonders of science, particularly the radio.

Can agriculture make money today? Apparently it can although the hazards are great, as may be judged from the report of the United States Sugar Corporation for the fiscal year ended June 30, in which President Clarence R. Bittling estimates profits for the year approximately $1,000,000 from operating cane sugar plantations in the Florida Everglades. In a statement to his stockholders he said:

"Properties of your corporation have been damaged by tropical disturbances, cloudbursts and abnormal temperatures, and may be visited in future by these and by other unusual and unforeseen disturbances and catastrophes, the extent of any future damage being impossible of estimation. The corporation is engaged in an agricultural pursuit, and is therefore subject to all the hazards of agriculture both known and unknown."

MRS. DAN CASS DIES

EARLY ESTIMATES PREDICT GOOD YIELD

Milam county's 1937 cotton yield was estimated to be in prospect for 50,000 bales and based upon the prevailing middling basis price in Cameron Wednesday morning the crop would bring the farmers gross $3,750,000.

Dry Weather Needed

Local experts based their estimate upon present condition which are qualified by demand for dry weather the remainder of the growing season. Recent rains here have brought needed moisture to the young plant and old cotton, already far advanced is on the road to maturity.

Estimates also are made based upon the absence of insects which thus far have done little or no damage in the county. In the sand country the best crop in years is in prospect.

Cotton 13c Basis

Cotton was selling for 13c middling basis in Cameron. It was estimated that the acreage is up about 15 per cent over the acreage of 1936. Last year the county produced less than 39,000 bales of cotton. The largest crop on record was in 1920 when the county produced in excess of 79,000.

Melons Good

Growers in the sand country were making around $100 per acre from melons, the best in years. The water melon crop is the best in several years.

CHAMBER PLANS MID SUMMER BARBECUE

Chamber of Commerce plans a mid summer barbecue.

Much civic heat is engendered each year over the annual banquet.

The directors in session Tuesday night thought a mid summer barbecue would bring up the batting average on appeasing appetites and be a good social occasion.

Chamber of Commerce in Houston wants to make a trade trip here sometime during the summer and the barbecue may be staged during their visit.

WACOAN WINS GOLF CLASSIC HERE SUNDAY

Johnny Newman of Waco shot his way around the par 68 Cameron Country Club course in 71 today to win low gross in the annual Cameron invitation tournament.

The field was large despite the threatening weather, nearly 100 golfers from Waco, Bryan, Bastrop, Temple and other Central Texas course playing through the 18-hole medal play event in alternate sun and rain.

Next gross placers were Ken Eastwood of Waco with a 72, J. H. Strange of Waco with a 73, Roy Sherrill, Jr., of Temple with a 74 and Holly Chestnut of Waco with a 74.

Young Sherrill had the lowest nine hole score of the day, a one under par 33 on his first round.

First place net went to Ed Davis of Elgin with a 64. Next were Joe Sosolik of Bryan with 65, J. H. Jones of Bryan with 65, Sam Hendler of Temple, Jess Shelton of Bryan and J. K. Prewitt of Elgin with 66's.

Newman also won the pitching contest. Dr. J. R. Harris was second and Deb Childress of Giddings third.

Sharp Educator In Criticism of State On Transport Funds

The educational program of Texas should be a program offering equal opportunities to all of the students of the State rather than to the students of the larger cities as it has been in the past. Texas ranks near the bottom of the list among the states of the Union in education not because of the schools in the cities for they compare favorably with the schools of other states, but because of the systems in Rural Texas. Many of the

Regulations sought to be placed in force by the Chamber of Commerce against solicitors in Cameron apparently were not intended to cover legitimate business, although the secret committee had thus far declined to give sanction to Parker Studios in Dallas.

The Studios came to Cameron with a recommendation from the Better Business League in Dallas and had set up a studio in the Right Hotel to sell photographic work.

F. H. Parker was on the ground Wednesday and was meeting with little success in obtaining sanction from the committee, although his business was on the level.

Frank Sefcik, 83, charged with murder in connection with the slaying of Charlie Masar, 40 year old former world war soldier on the Sefcik farm near Rockdale, has been released on $2500 bond, according to Rockdale Reporter.

Bond was fixed by Justice of Peace Leo Harris in Rockdale. Ed. Gunn, attorney for Sefcik arranged the bond and his release. Constable Colvin made the arrest and the examining trial was held in Rockdale.

Much of Milam county's criminal investigation has been transferred to Rockdale, due to the activity of Constable Colvin. Cameron newspaper readers cannot always have the news on equal terms with Rockdale often due to lack of information.

The Reporter also says Roy Hamby's bond has been set at $10,000 and D. W. Owens at $500. They are held for robbery with fire arms. E. D. Burger of Cameron was robbed on the highway near Rockdale last Thursday morning.

The debate on the judicial re-organization bill has commenced in the Senate and apparently little is to be done in either House until that is completed. Anyway the House has accomplished very little this past week. In the Senate the original court bill has already been discarded and a completely new bill offered in its place. Some very well considered speeches are being made on both sides and I am sure many more will be made. I am trying to hear all I can of the discussion for my own information. However, the House is in session most of the time that the Senate is in session and this gives very little opportunity to hear the Senate debates.

There have been some thirty thousand Boy Scouts here for the past week and each day there have been hundreds of them visiting the Capital and other hundreds on all of the streets. I was very proud of the group from Central Texas and only wish that all our boys might have had this opportunity to visit their Nation's Capitol. Each night of the Jamboree, the Boy Scouts presented pageants and stunts in a huge open air arena. Wednesday night the Texas group presented their part of the program and were well-received by the vast audience. Thursday President Roosevelt reviewed the thirty thousand Boy Scouts by driving down Constitution Avenue between the columns of the scouts.

Thursday, the House voted 205 to 128 to repeal the so-called "married persons' clause of the Economy Act of 1932. This clause (Section 213) has been variously described and I think unnecessarily misrepresented by a great group of organizations that have been seeking its repeal ever since it was passed. They say it discriminates against women and against low paid employees. In my opinion both of these claims are ridiculous. The Section which was repealed reads as follows: "Section 213. In any personnel in any branch or service of United States Government or the District of Columbia, married persons (living with husband or wife) employed in the class to be reduced, shall be dismissed before any other persons employed in such class are dismissed, if such husband or wife is also in the service of the United States or the District of Columbia."

In the appointment of persons to the classified civil service, preference shall be given to persons other than married persons living with husband or wife, such husband or wife being in the service of the United States or the District of Columbia." I can not see anything objectionable about this language. I voted against repealing it and in fact voted to strengthen it and extend it to every governmental agency, including the Congress, the Executive and the Judiciary. It is a strange fact but there are no Federal laws against nepotism and the Federal departments are full of whole families on the government pay roll. I believe that as far as possible every salary the government pays should support a family and each time we allow two or more of the same family to hold Federal jobs we make it impossible for some other family to have even one bread winner employed, and with the reduction that must necessarily take place in the Federal departments in the near future it is going to be the more unfortunate that this section was repealed.

Just yesterday, the President called the heads of all of the independent agencies before him to discuss ways of carrying out a 10% cut in their expenditures for the coming year. Early in the week they ordered such a cut which would result in a saving of nearly $400,000,000 to the taxpayers. I heartily approve of the reduction and believe it can be made without any material loss to the government but I hope that all of our people will realize that such a reduction can not be made without throwing thousands of people out of Federal jobs and that if it is done it will be utterly impossible to find new jobs for the thousands who are now applying for Federal places.

HENRY FORD

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

I have never met or seen Henry Ford. I, like thousands of other people, have read all about him and heard all about him. Some of these days when Henry gets through with the John Lewis racketeers, I am going to buy myself a cheap round trip ticket to Henry's home town, Dearborn, Michigan, and see if I can obtain the honor of a few minute confab with him while he does all the talking.

You see there is an un-noticed relation between me and Henry that makes me feel kind and cordial towards him.

The Ford cars, sometimes called "tin Henry's," have carried more Texas people to Ferguson speakings than all the rest of the cars put together. Away back in 1914 in my first race for Governor there weren't so many cars and people came to my meetings in wagons, hacks and the young boys and girls came in the hug me tight bugies. Then in 1924 when my wife was elected to her first term as the first woman governor the people had begun to ride by thousands in the Ford cars. The Ford car was then like it is now, the best car on the market for the money. I have spoken to many audiences, ranging from four to ten thousand, four-fifths of whom had come in Ford cars.

So you can see why I feel a certain affinity for Henry Ford. If he had not produced that dependable Ford at a very low price, I know my crowds would not have been so big and I might not have gotten anywhere in my campaign. I just want to see Henry and personally thank him for a big favor.

Henry Ford is not so important for the large amount of money that he has made as he is for the use to which he has put his money.

When he reflects that he has and continues to keep more people at work at a living wage than anybody else, I am sure it is a source of great or personal gratification than all the wealth he has made or may make hereafter. I am sure this is true, for if the desire to make money controlled him, he could have made twice as much money as he has made out of the same volume of business. If he had added $20 to each car he would still have had the best car on the market for the money, and would have made 25 million more money.

Henry Ford is the most wonderful type of individualism the world has ever known. This is why this Lewis Communist crowd are so anxious to get control of the Ford properties and organization. Notwithstanding the many benefactions which Mr. Ford has given the large masses of laborers in his employ, this new crowd of anarchists want to destroy Mr. Ford and the loyalty of his employees.

The whole world is looking on with a breathless anxiety as to the outcome of Mr. Ford's contest with the unions. Every thinking man knows that if the John Lewis crowd by the intimidation process now resorted to should prevail, the tragedy of the sit down strike will destroy the right of personal security and even the right of personal liberty and private property.

If the mob divides Henry Ford's wealth, the example and the precedent for the division of all property is inevitable. Then where do we go from here?

Miss Aetna Smith was hostess to twenty-four friends at a bridge-luncheon on Saturday morning.

Six tables for bridge were placed in an inviting environment in the Smith home and three hours of games were enjoyed. For success in games, Mrs. B. F. Bonds, Mrs. A. J. Triggs and Mrs. C. G. Brindley, each received pretty stationery. Mrs. Goodhue Smith of Waco, who was a house guest, also received a gift.

At noon a two course luncheon was served.

Wilkerson's Go To Austin

Mr. and Mrs. Lora Wilkerson and their daughters, Zola Clark and Leola, have moved to Austin.

Mrs. Wilkerson had taught piano in Cameron for a number of years. Mr. Wilkerson was in the garage business. They plan to live in Austin during the time their children attend University of Texas.

Friends in Cameron regret to know they have moved away, but wish them every happiness and success in their new home.

ANY BOY'S DOG
They say you're just a mongrel
And you haven't any sense
But that's cause they don't know you pal
Or they'd know you are a prince.

Why you have the best of manners
And you always ask perlie
An' bow your head at meal time
Before you take a bite.

An' aint you always ready
To romp an' run an' play
An' you meet me an' say howdy
When I've been gone all day.

An' when life gets too hard for me
An' I'm feelin' hurt and sore
Then you un'erstan' an' comfort me
An' you never are a bore.

Old Pal you never lie to me
An' when I hear your shout
I know you've got a rabbit treed
An' I come and twis' him out.

So they call me rabbit twis'er
An' that is jus' alright
But when they call you mongrel
Well it makes me wanna fight.

"Tariff readjustments, as well as changes in governmental control and policies in connection with sugar production and importation may affect the corporation, as may likewise the relations of your government with its territories and insular possessions, particularly Cuba and the Philippines in which are situated similar operations. The business operating conditions and financial results will also be affected by variations in the price of sugar, as well as by future economic conditions and taxation."

A million dollars of profit from agricultural operations is extremely interesting, and such a report should give impetus to the revival of agriculture in the South. In spite of the many hazards which face producers of our national wealth, it appears from Mr. Bitting's statement that agriculture still holds opportunity for profit.

columns and sweeping galleries. Adjoining is the estate bought by the pioneer Thomas H. Graves who settled it along in the 80's when Texas cattle were going up the trail to Abilene.

Mrs. Graves was born in Vicksburg, Miss., on October 1, 1855, eight years before the first battle of the Civil War. She was Addie T. Triple, daughter of George C. and Rebecca Triple, early pioneers in Mississippi.

Later in 1875 she came with her parents and the family settled at Davilla then a prosperous inland college town. She was married to Thomas H. Graves in February 1880, who came to the Lilac country a young man, bought land and prospered and was known through Texas as a large land owner and stockman. After the death of Mr. Graves some years ago, Mrs. Graves continued to live on the estate.

She was the mother of George T. Graves of Cameron. Other children who survive are: Paul Graves and Henry Graves of Lilac; Mrs. Marvin Beatty of Fort Worth; Mrs. Roger Gilliland and Mrs. Floyd Hargrove of Lilac. Nine grand children also survive.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the family residence with interment in Lilac cemetery.

Mrs. Grabein

America before the turn of the 20th century. It was in 1883 that she came to America and had lived in and near Rockdale until her death.

Like the true pioneer women, Mrs. Grabein was a home lover and devoted her life to her children. In their lives has persisted the wholesome influence of the ancestral home, of the family at Rockdale made eventful by the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Grabein, both of whom are now enshrined in the memory of many who knew them. She was a good neighbor and friend and ever ready to help those in need.

Surviving children are: Oscar Walther, Memphis, Tenn.; Paul Walther, Fort Worth; R. G. Grabein of Cameron; Mrs. C. E. Whites, Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, Minerva; Max H. Grabein, Fort Worth; J. W. Grabein of Rockdale; also 14 grand children and 2 great grand children survive her.

Pall bearers were: H. O. Quebe, B. W. Baldrige, L. G. Gest, Rockdale; D. H. Jenkins, John Muse and Homer McLane of Cameron.

CARD OF THANKS

To our friends for their kindness and words of consolation at the death of our dear mother, Mrs. Anna Grabein, we want to express our most sincere appreciation. By word and deed you have helped us greatly in our sorrow, and your beautiful floral tributes were appreciated deeply. Sincerely, Her Children.

Educator

states of the Union have uniform school terms over the entire state, and equipment in the smaller schools compares favorably with that of the larger schools. That has been the problem in Texas. Our smaller schools have only poor buildings and practically no equipment. This is because the property valuation is less per pupil in Rural sections, and also, the Rural sections have not voted to pay as much tax for the education of their children as the people in urban centers have been willing to vote. The purpose of the Equalization Fund (Rural Aid) is to make up for that difference in valuation of property in rural and urban sections. Every time Rural Aid bills are presented, representatives from the larger cities fight them—they clamor for a greater state apportionment which means DOLLARS to their schools where we in the Rural schools get only CENTS.

We have no criticism of the amount specified for high school tuition; it is accepted that schools should meet the fifty cent local tax requirement to be eligible to have their high school tuition paid. And there is no severe criticism of the increased amount specified for salary aid because a good teacher is never overpaid—incidentally a poor teacher is always overpaid. But the amount specified for transportation kills the transportation program. Heretofore the State Department of Education has been allowed to apportion the Equalization fund to the various items as it has seen fit, and approximately two million dollars was spent last year on the transportation program—This year only $972,683 was set aside to be spent for school buses. These funds were ear-marked by the Legislature so that only this relatively small amount can be spent on the transportation of pupils, and furthermore a clause was inserted in the bill prohibiting an emergency appropriation at the end of the year. For the last five years there has been an increase of about 20% each year over the preceding year in the cost of school buses. Allowing the same increase this year there would be only about 45% of the amount spent last year per bus to be spent this year. We all know that buses cannot operate on ANY less than they received last year. Those which received $70 last year would get $32 this year.

My suggestion is that the Legislature either appropriate one and one-quarter million dollars more to be spent for transportation, or authorize the State Department of Education to spend that already appropriated as they see fit. And to all of the patrons and citizens who are interested in seeing the system of buses continue to operate, see your representatives and urge that they cooperate in continuing the transportation program. If the Buses cease to operate a large number of the high school pupils who are at the present planning to attend some high school will be forced to remain at home this year.

Now he is being sent, with his wife and four children, from Canada back to his native Ireland, after losing 21 jobs, and a well to do relative has agreed to support the family.

WOODMEN CIRCLE LEADER IS DEAD

Mrs. Itasca L. Young, of Philadelphia, director of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, died in a Dallas hospital June 22, according to information received at national headquarters of the society. She had been ill for many months, it was said, but planned to attend the meeting of the society's board of directors in Omaha, Nebr., last week, only to be confined in Dallas.

Member 54 Years

Mrs. Young, who was 54 years of age, joined the Woodmen Circle in 1899, and became a field worker for the society three years later. She held various offices in the society in Texas, which was her home state, until 1919, when she was made state manager of Pennsylvania. She was elected to the national board of directors, in 1925, and was re-elected for each succeeding term.

Built Cottage

It was largely through her efforts that the Pennsylvania Cottage, the second main unit in the society's Home for Aged Members and Orphan Children, was erected in Sherman, Texas. As a member of the Home Committee since 1933, she took an important part in the development of the Home.

Without work for five years, W. Harris of Flint, Mich., finally obtained a PWA job and lost his first pay check of $18.

Al Demaree, who digs up interesting sports items of bygone days, relates the story of Charley Moran's world's record of strikeouts. Pitching for Nashville Academy against Vanderbilt University some years ago, Moran struck out nine men in one inning, yet in that inning Vanderbilt scored six runs. The explanation is that Moran's catcher failed to stop six third strikes.

A good many will agree with the late Will Rogers in his pronouncement regarding Americans abroad, in which he said that "any person that will stay in the middle of a civil war for six months and don't know enough to even send his family out, it won't do much good to rescue him. You bring him back home and he will run right in front of a Ford."

Grand Prize Adds New Facilities To Houston Plant to Meet Beer Demands

F. H. Roberts, president of the Gulf Brewing Company, brewers of "Grand Prize" beer, announces the completion of increased facilities. The additional new equipment and buildings practically double the capacity. Mr. Roberts said, "We wanted to be prepared for the continued increase of Grand Prize sales."

This is the third enlargement made of the Brewery's facilities. The Company, born since beer was legalized in Texas, has enjoyed an almost phenomenal growth.

New Storage

Additions include new storage cellars with 48 new ageing tanks, 16 of which have a 1300 barrel capacity each, special all bronze pumps, new all bronze filters, coolers with all bronze fittings and copper tubing, new refrigeration equipment and a complete new section to the bottling department.

The Bottling Department's new equipment includes a double soaker for sterilizing bottles, two automatic fillers, two crowners, two labeling machines, and a double pasteurizer, along with necessary conveying machinery. With the expansion, 32,000 bottles per hour of properly aged beer can be turned out.

New Office Building

Additional structures consists of new 2-story office building of hollow tile construction, 48 feet 8 inches by 100 feet 8 inches and new warehouse building of 16,000 square feet to provide necessary bottle storage which will accommodate 48,000 cases of 24 bottles each.

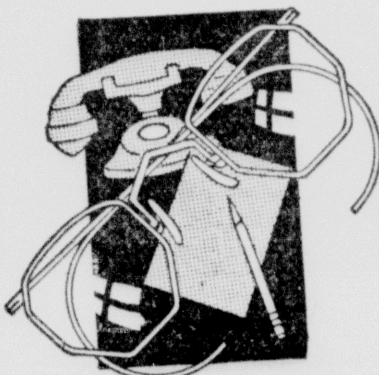

Frank Brogniez is vice president in charge of production. Following in the footsteps of his famous father Frantz Brogniez, under whom he studied, he uses the formula that won world's first prize; a formula handed down from father to son, for generation to generation.

Today Grand Prize Beer is known as the largest seller in the South, and its modern brewery is world famous.

Of local interest is the announcement of E. W. Streetman, business man here, that Sam Streetman, Jr., is secretary of the Gulf Brewing Company of Houston, makers of Grand Prize Beer. Sam was born and reared in Cameron. His father, the late Sam Streetman, was one of the better known American lawyers. Capt. Billie Streetman was one of the pioneer settlers in Cameron.

When two men attempted to hold up W. R. Capron of Duluth, he pointed a banana at them and they fled, thinking it was a revolver.

how much cooler cooking can be

Of course no woman wants to be tied down in a hot kitchen these days. That's just why so many are trading-in their old worn-out ranges for a sparkling, cooler-cooking new gas automatic.

When you see these new ranges and discover that the oven is so thoroughly insulated that you can get more cooking out of the same amount of gas; that heat stays INSIDE, instead of escaping into your kitchen; that automatic heat control saves peeking into a hot oven you, too, will realize that a kitchen can be comfortably cool when the range is a modern gas automatic.

One is easy to own. Prices are still low and monthly payments most convenient. See them for yourself, find out about prices and trade-in allowance at your gas company display room—now!
